

Henry Brodaty, AO, MB BS, MD, DSc, FRACP, FRANZCP

Present:

- Inaugural Professor of Psychogeriatrics, UNSW
- Director, Academic Department for Old Age Psychiatry at Prince of Wales Hospital
- Director, Primary Dementia Collaborative Research Centre, UNSW
- Past-chairman, Alzheimer's Disease International, an umbrella group of the national Alzheimer's Associations of 77 countries world-wide
- Member of virtually every New South Wales and Commonwealth Committee relating to dementia in the past 15 years
- Sits on the Editorial boards of eight scientific journals
- Sits on the Advisory boards for six pharmaceutical companies
- Currently co-supervising one post-doctoral student and two honours students..

Principal areas of expertise:

- Depression in cognitive impairment
- Depression after stroke
- Differentiation of depression and apathy
- Depression in carers of people with dementia
- Depression in nursing homes
- Is depression in late life a prodromal feature of Alzheimer's disease?
- Depression in the elderly: is late onset depression different to lifelong depressives who have become old? What is the pathoplastic effect of age on manifested symptoms?
- Prognosis of depression in the elderly
- Dementia and memory disorder